

Recognition for Sunnymead staff !

Last week, several members of staff at Sunnymead Residential Home received nominations for the 'Carer of the Year' award in the Independent Health Care Providers (IHCP) Care Awards 2012. These awards acknowledge and celebrate the enormous contribution and dedication that staff working in the independent Health and Social Care sector make to society in the many care homes around Northern Ireland in caring for the elderly and the vulnerable.

Nominations for these awards were provided by Residents, relatives, management and members of the public. Nominated staff will be reviewed by a panel of judges. The winner will have demonstrated their dedication in providing exceptional service for Residents and their relatives. All nominated staff are recognised by IHCP and receive a certificate.

Also nominated is Home Manager, Amanda Leitch, who has been nominated for this year's 'Training Initiative' award, having made an exceptional contribution to the training and development of staff in Sunnymead. Amanda has increased the number of staff who have professional care qualifications in Sunnymead by 35% over the past 5 years.

Winners will be announced by IHCP at the Gala Dinner in the Ramada Hotel, Belfast on 5th September 2012. Linda Nesbitt, Sunnymeads proprietor said "I am proud of all staff achievements and wish those nominated good luck in the next stage of the competition."

These nominations reflect the dedication of staff and the standard of care in Sunnymead. Denise Killen, care assistant said "This nomination has encouraged me to continue working towards Sunnymead ultimate goal of helping Residents live happy, fulfilled and purposeful lives from Sunnymead, it is lovely to have been nominated."
